

Imagine a world where everything's just the way you want it.
Not just big things — peace on earth, equal pay, men always knowing the right thing to say — everything. Well, we've thought of a few things that would make that world a better place. Next job night out, make it a game and have everyone come up with a few of their own.

In a world according to woman things...

- Bathrooms, kitchens and men would be self-cleaning.
- Construction workers would be at a loss for words.
- "This the brainy type" would be a compliment.

It's a woman thing.

01036-D2